

Physician Assistant Early Assurance Program

rewarding career as a physician assistant from your first day on campus.

motivated students with defined career goals. Once you complete your bachelor's degree, you'll enroll in ODU's Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies program. Graduates of our program see a 98% first-time pass rate on the PANCE exam and 100% employment rate.

Program Highlights

- between professors and students
- Minutes from opportunities in downtown Columbus
- State-of-the-art labs and facilities available for student use, including a cadaver lab for undergraduates
- 98% first-time pass rate on the PANCE exam
- 100% employment rate post-graduation

State-Of-The-Art Facilities

National Certifying Examination (PANCE)

- Show entry-level proficiencies necessary to provide high-quality
- Demonstrate attitudes and skills that show commitment to professional behavior, along with respect for self and others
- Provide quality, compassionate and ethical health care
- Become a leader through continued knowledge, growth, research, publication and professional activity

- Inorganic/General Chemistry with Lab
- Organic Chemistry with Lab

- Human Anatomy (Lab Required)
- Human Physiology (Lab Recommended)
- Microbiology with Lab
- General Biology (minimum of 6 credit hours)

– Recommended courses include:

- Abnormal
- Human Development Lifespan

How to Apply

1. Complete the Ohio Dominican University admission application
2. Complete the ODU EAP-PA application with essay
3. Submit two letters of recommendation work

Application deadlines for PA-EAP are in early November of